

Aircraft Bogged in Kapi, Night in the Bush, Prayer Request

KAPI, PNG

We want to share with you that on Thursday, 13th Sept 2012, in deteriorating weather, Paul landed in difficult conditions at KAPI in the mountains of PNG where the aircraft bogged in a soft part of the airstrip

On board were two local passengers and food for the community. The aircraft suffered a small amount of damage but everyone was safe and well.

Paul spent the night at in a village hut for the sick where he was able to talk about how graceful our Lord Jesus is and that his hand is on all things for our benefit.

MAF investigates all incidents, no matter how large or small.

This process began next day with the arrival of an investigating team and will continue for some time.

The aircraft flew out next day and will be back to service shortly.

Please give thanks for

A safe landing

The safety of all on-board

That all things are in the Lord Jesus's hand

Please pray for

The next week – Paul will not fly for at least one week as a precautionary measure

Investigation – that the investigation will conclude soon

Return to Service – That Paul will return to flying duties sooner rather than later

Situation – that a similar situation will not arise again and the event produces wisdom

Passengers – that the passengers are comforted with the knowledge of the Jesus' Grace

Safe Flying – Paul is flying in the mountains and the weather is shocking

In Him – Paul, Clare, Kiri, Imogen, Aaron, Tristan, Imogen
